Dear Friends,

In late October we celebrated our 110th birthday! An exciting milestone! Of course the YWCANCIN has evolved greatly over the past 110 years as we reinvented ourselves to meet the needs of the community, but one thing has stayed constant. The YWCA is and will continue to be a voice and force for improving the lives and status of women, children and people of color in our local community.

The YWCA USA was formed at a time that women did not have opportunities for leadership, so local YWCA Association Charters stated that all YWCA Board of Director's seats should be reserved for women.

While the YWCANCIN understood the underlying rationale, we felt that men and women should work together to address the critical issues facing our community. We understood there have always been good men who supported our efforts, and we wanted and needed their involvement in our work. It is glaringly apparent that there are still disparities in wages and corporate management opportunities for women, but we believe the needed changes will not occur without both women and men advocating for change. To effect this change our Association petitioned the YWCA USA to be approved to place men on our Board of Directors, and the petition was approved. The YWCANCIN election of Board Members this year for the first time included five male Board Members.

Together we are saddened that another year has passed and our communities have lost more women and children at the hands of those who had promised to love them. Too many women and children and people of color live in poverty. Too many struggle to cope with the day's challenges. Together we have redoubled our efforts to spur systemic change in St. Joseph and Elkhart counties. We understand that helping heal and empower one woman can affect many other lives. We will continue our work one woman and one child at a time.

Sincerely,

Making History to Make a Difference for Women & Children

For over a century the YWCA Board of Directors has consisted solely of women but times have changed. Believing that the best way to help solve problems facing women in our society is to harness both woman and man power, YWCA North Central Indiana petitioned YWCA USA to allow the addition of men to the board. The petition was approved and in July we proudly welcomed our inaugural class of male board members.

Domestic Violence Healing Pathways

As the largest provider of domestic violence services in our community, the YWCA North Central Indiana provides both residential and non-residential services in St. Joseph County and non-residential domestic violence counseling and support groups in Elkhart County.

YWCA staff answered 3, 223 crisis calls last year.

At the shelter in South Bend, women and their children receive not only safe shelter, food and other necessities but also the support and services they need to begin rebuilding their lives including:

- trauma informed care
- education about the cycle of violence
- domestic violence support groups
- court advocacy and assistance with protective orders
- self-sufficiency services
- life skills classes
- bilingual services
- childcare

With a capacity of 125 the YWCA Women's Shelter is often full or above capacity but no victim of domestic violence is ever turned away.

Last year 538 women and children were served in the domestic violence program.

Healing our Children

Childhood trauma contributes to one of the leading population health issues of our time. Toxic stress or adverse childhood experiences (Aces), has been proven to disrupt normal brain development and trigger genetically predisposed diseases and delinquent behaviors.

The YWCA Children's Services staff, including a Child Counselor, work closely with each child in their care to identify the impact of the trauma that brought them and their mother to the shelter. The ultimate goals are to ensure the safety of the child and break the cycle of violence.

The YWCA operates its own pre-school and day care center allowing mothers to attend support groups, classes, and/or work.

Each child undergoes developmental screening and receives:

- trauma informed care
- personal safety planning
- good touch/bad touch
- screening for abuse
- education in conflict resolution and drug refusal

359 children called the YWCA home last year.

Each year an estimated 3.3 million children witness violence against their mothers.

A survey of 6,000 American families found that 50% of men who abuse their wives, also abuse their children.

Research shows that 80 to 90% of children living in homes where there is domestic violence are aware of the abuse.

“New Hope” Sexual Assault Survivor Program

The American Medical Association refers to sex crimes as the “silent, violent epidemic” in society. An epidemic that places blame on victims and as a result forces many victims to remain silent. The YWCA’s sexual assault treatment program, provided in both Elkhart and St. Joseph Counties, offers the community’s only free individual and group counseling for adult victims of rape, sexual assault, incest, and childhood sexual abuse.

The program also provides:

- shelter for recent victims of rape
- outreach to area teenagers on issues of date rape and teen dating violence
- assistance in filing with filing with the Victim’s Compensation Fund
- court advocacy

*170 women received
free counseling & services in the “New Hope”
Sexual Assault Program.*

“A Woman’s Journey” Chemical Dependency Treatment

“A Woman’s Journey” is the YWCA’s innovative women-centered chemical dependency treatment program. It last from 6 to 8 weeks and is followed by up to 12 months of after-care. It is one of only two residential chemical dependency programs in the state of Indiana that allows women to bring their children with them during treatment.

Last year 106 women received treatment in the chemical dependency treatment program, and 108 women completed at least 206 days of after-care.

“Breaking Free” Dual Treatment Program

Many women who are victims of domestic violence report turning to drugs and alcohol to numb their pain.

“Breaking Free” is a unique and innovative holistic treatment program for women with a history of both domestic violence and substance abuse.

The two issues are addressed and treated at the same time with emphasis placed on understanding how they are inter-related.

Last year 203 women received treatment in the “Breaking Free” Treatment program.

Serving Elkhart County Women and their Families

Since 1908 the YWCA has been a constant, caring voice for women in Elkhart County. In the fall of 2010 the YWCA began a new chapter in its mission to improve the lives of women by joining forces with the St. Joseph County YWCA to create YWCA North Central Indiana. With renewed energy and focus the YWCA now provides non-residential domestic violence and sexual assault counseling services and economic empowerment programming at the YWCA Elkhart County located at 23426 US 33, Elkhart, IN. All services are free and confidential.

“Brighter Tomorrows” Economic Empowerment Program

The YWCA Brighter Tomorrow’s program is an investment in the women in our community and is available to all adult women. The program at the Elkhart County service site, which is offered in both English and Spanish, includes education in financial literacy, job preparedness and job retention. A key component of “Brighter Tomorrows” is the nationally recognized “Bridges Out of Poverty” Getting Ahead classes designed to move people out of generational poverty and into the world of employment and education.

“Healing Pathways” Domestic Violence Program

1 in 4 women will experience domestic violence at some point in their lives. The YWCA service site in Elkhart County offers non-residential individual and group counseling for victims of domestic violence. Residential services, if needed, are available at the YWCA service site in St. Joseph County. Women in the Domestic Violence Program may also receive self sufficiency & economic empowerment services at the Elkhart location.

“New Hope” Sexual Assault Survivor Program

Every 2 minutes someone in America is sexually assaulted. The YWCA’s “New Hope” Program at the Elkhart County service site offers non-residential individual and group counseling for victims of rape, sexual assault, incest and childhood sexual abuse. Emergency shelter for recent victims of rape is available at the YWCA’s St. Joseph County service site.

Mujeres, Immigrantes y Latinas (MIL)

Mujeres, Immigrantes y Latinas (MIL) is a grassroots group created by and for Latina immigrants. It aims to encourage, inspire and empower its members by creating a safe space to discuss daily triumphs and challenges, share stories and resources, and develop skills to strengthen their involvement in Elkhart. MIL meets at the YWCA Elkhart County office.

Empowering Women

Many of the women and children served by the YWCA come from generational poverty and efforts to improve their economic power are central to our mission.

The YWCA's Brighter Tomorrows Economic Empowerment program has three core components:

- Bridges Out of Poverty Getting Ahead Classes
- Financial Literacy
- Job readiness and retention

The program is available in both Elkhart and St. Joseph Counties for residential and non-residential clients of the YWCA. In St. Joseph County the program is also offered in Spanish.

239 women were served in the Economic Empowerment Program last year.

71% of women in the Economic Empowerment program increased their income by either securing a full time or part time job or by increasing their hours at their current job.

"I loved the Getting Ahead classes at the YWCA! For the first time in my life someone helped me realize that I could change my own life...that I had the power. I am so grateful for the YW showing me that I have the tools to make changes that will not only improve my life but the lives of my kids who are counting on me."

2013 "Getting Ahead" Graduate

Making a difference for women for 110 years.

Housing Programs

Transitional Housing

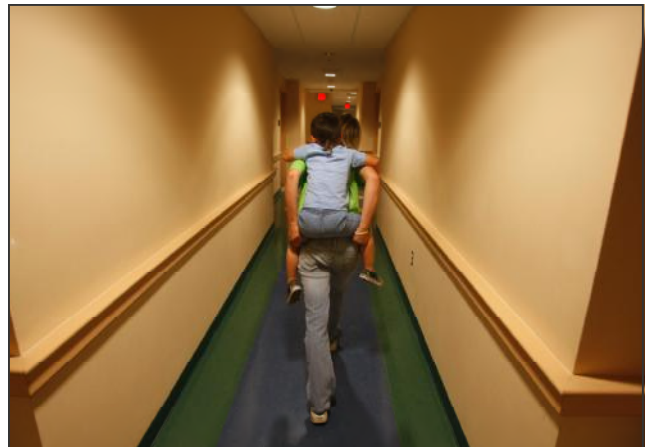

As a component of the YWCA's Brighter Tomorrow's self sufficiency program the YWCA offers transitional housing for women and children. While staying at the shelter, for up to two years, they receive case management services, life skills training, financial literacy education and full self sufficiency services.

40 women and 17 children were provided with transitional housing last year.

Permanent Housing

Permanent housing services are provided to women with special needs who have developmental delays, chronic mental illness, and/or physical handicaps and who need minimal assistance in order to live independently.

14 women were provided with permanent housing last year.

Women of Vision

The YWCA would like to thank the many women leaders in our community who generously donate both time and treasure to improve the lives of women and children. These Women of Vision supported the YWCA with a gift of $1,000 or more between July 1, 2012 to June 30, 2013.

Friend & Fund Raising

The YWCA is grateful for all those who help plan and attend our fundraising events. The money raised from Tribute, the run, jane, run golf tournament and the Men's March to End Violence Against Women provide significant funds to help support our programs for women and children.

2013 Tribute honorees Pam Hluchota, Dorothy Wiekamp & the Honorable Michael Gotsch

Former Governor Joe Kernan tries out his red shoes at the YWCA Men's March to End Violence Against Women.

Honorary Chair Coach Muffet McGraw having fun with friends at the run, jane, run golf tournament for women awards banquet.
